Valley Fire 10th Anniversary 2015 – 2025 Lake County, California

Igniting on September 12, 2015, near Cobb Mountain, the Valley Fire was the third most destructive wildfire in modern California history at the time. Five people tragically lost their lives and four firefighters were seriously injured. 76,067 acres burned and 1,955 structures were destroyed, forever changing Lake County.

We honor those who lost their lives, all who suffered hardship, and the enduring resilience of our communities. Lessons learned from the Valley Fire continue to shape preparedness, response, and recovery efforts locally and across California.

With heartfelt gratitude, we recognize the courage of all first responders, the compassion of those who aided in our recovery, and the leaders who guided us through our darkest days.
